Description:	Establishing a factory for manufacturing various military uniform accessories for most security and military agencies aims to localize the production of essential components such as badges, patches, ranks, belts, buttons, etc. This project supports national security independence, reduces reliance on imports, and ensures consistent supply and quality tailored to the specific needs. The factory can also serve as a regional supplier, with potential for export to different countries, leveraging Oman's strategic location. Moreover, a percentage of pre-purchase contracts will be secured with investors who meet the required standards and specifications, providing guaranteed demand and reinforcing the project's financial viability.
