Overview Opportunity

Description

The manufacturing of textiles and tailoring aims to meet the general demand for various types of fabrics and garments for everyday and commercial use. It also seeks to enhance self-sufficiency and reduce reliance on imports for essential textile and clothing products.

Rationale

The textile and tailoring industry requires a continuous and reliable supply of high-quality fabrics and garments to meet every day and commercial needs. Local production ensures faster delivery, customization to market preferences, and improved supply chain resilience, especially during global disruptions.
